Call for Papers

B.N. Yugandhar Centre for Rural Studies is inviting papers for the forthcoming issues on Journal for Land and Rural Studies

The Area of Journal

The Journal of Land and Rural Studies invites relevant contributions with such a perspective, drawing on academics working on any of the social sciences disciplines, newly emerging frontier faculties such as climate change, disaster mitigation, social exclusion, human settlement, water and sanitation, and experiences of the entire range of practitioners involved in policy making as well as implementation in the field. Some of the obvious areas include issues relevant to rural physical and social infrastructure, agriculture, gamut of land-related issues-land reforms, land use, land administration, land record modernization and their impact, rural industrialization, provisioning of credit, micro-finance, appropriate research and knowledge generation and their extensions to the field etc., and appropriate public policies, schemes and programmes with respect to all these areas.

Details for submission of articles

1. Special Article (8000 words), Articles (4000–5000 words), Policy Briefs and Updates (3000 words), Working Papers (2000 words) and Book Reviews (800–1500 words) may be submitted. They should be typed on one side of the paper, preferably A4 and double-spaced throughout (even for quotations, notes, references).
2. References should be embedded in the text using the author-date-page number method, e.g. (Dubey 1989: 278). Citations should be first alphabetical and then chronological, e.g. (Ahmed 1987; Sarkar, 1987; Wignaraja, 1967). Use British rather than American spellings.
3. Book reviews must contain the name of author/editor and the book reviewed, place of publication and publisher, year of publication, number of pages, ISBN and the price.
